COMMENTS FROM THE TOWN MANAGER'S OFFICE

At the last meeting of the Board of Selectmen it was voted to purchase a plow frame for the 1959 International truck. As the 1956 and 1953 trucks are already equipped, we will now have the three two-ton trucks with full hydraulic equipment for operating the wing and plow. The plow frame will be purchased on a time payment plan, to be paid for during 1960, with no carrying charges. Payments will be made from the truck rental account.

Inquiry was made as to whether the 1932 Cat tractor is for sale. The Selectmen authorized the Town Manager to sell the tractor and plow if a reasonable offer was forthcoming.

Warrants will be posted in a few days for the Special Election to act on five referendum questions that are being submitted to the voters by the Legislature. The election will be held on Monday, Oct. 12, the polls opening at 10:00 a. m. and closing at 7:00 p. m.

The test sample that was taken from the well in front of Chadbourne's barn at West Bethel has proved unsatisfactory according to the reports received from the Division of Sanitary Engineering. A well point is to be driven at the rear of the West Bethel school on land of Herman Bennett to see if a sample can be obtained that will pass inspection.

Sincerely,
Harold L. Bean

"Therefore do not be anxious about tomorrow, for tomorrow will be anxious for itself. Let the day's own trouble be sufficient for the day." (Matthew 6:34, RSV.)

It is my belief that sometimes we have experiences when we are literally forced to turn to faith.

I can recall sitting in a hospital corridor when my child was hospitalized. I kept repeating to myself words from Joshua's book "Peace of Mind." He said, "When we are afraid of life and death, let us know that we can never travel beyond the arms of the Father."

I realized then that I was comforting my loved one not only to the care of conscientious doctors and nurses, but also to the care of God. As I sat waiting, I thought how tragic indeed must be the terror of a worried mother who knows not Christ. "You have launched the ship. Now all you can do is pray for good sailing." Such is the advice an old doctor gives to parents when their children must leave the security of home.

How desolate must parents be if they have not learned to pray! Those who entrust themselves and their loved ones to Christ will not fail in life's tests. They are sustained by faith in God's care and guidance.

PRAYER: O God, grant us grace to put our whole trust in Thee. Help us to learn from the lilies of the field and the birds of the air the Savior's lesson in faith. In His blessed name we pray. Amen.

Thought For The Day
Today I will entrust my life to Christ and claim the release He gives from fear.

V. A. NEWS LETTER
Cost of emergency treatment of veterans in private hospitals
may be paid by the Veterans Administration only if the medical care was for service-connected conditions, the agency said today.

Dr. Francis B. Carroll, VA's Area Medical Director for New England and New York, said the medical emergency must have been such that an attempt to secure admission to a VA hospital would have been in-futile to the veteran.

VA may assume full medical responsibility in such cases only if the emergency treatment is reported to the nearest VA hospital or regional office within 72 hours after admission of the veteran to a private hospital, Dr. Carroll said.

Dr. Carroll said VA cannot pay private hospital bills for veterans who elect to receive treatment in non-VA facilities as a matter of choice rather than of necessity.

A veteran who has paid his private hospital bill for emergency treatment of a service-connected condition may file a claim for reimbursement by VA, Dr. Carroll said.

He said reimbursement claims can be approved only if proof is submitted that the emergency required the veteran to be taken to the nearest private hospital for treatment and would not have permitted
the admission to a VA hospital.

"EAST BETHEL ROAD" SEEN AS VALUED LOCAL REFERENCE WORK

Reports from readers of the first copies of "East Bethel Road," indicate that this volume will be regarded as a reference work on early and present days in the eastern part of Bethel and adjacent areas in years to come. Accounts of people and places are many and detailed to the limit of the information carefully garnered by the author, Miss Eva Bean of Bethel.

More than 220 pages of this 460 page book are filled with family histories. Thus many of the earlier East Bethel families are recorded even to the later generations living in other states and countries. And all this information is readily located in the 47 page index which lists some 6,000 names and items of interest.

Of unusual value are the four pages of maps which list more than 300 homes and one-time homes in Bethel's "East Parish" and nearby sections of Hanover, Woodstock and Milton. Some 60 pages are devoted to priceless information regarding the owners of these buildings and farms, a feature which shows the results of long research.

The three principal cemeteries in the area are given 21 pages in the book. Maps of the Middle Intervale, East and South Bethel cemeteries, with references to the numbered lots, show the last resting places of those who enjoyed other days here. Listings of graves of many who were in military service are another valued feature.

Copies of "East Bethel Road" may be obtained by writing Miss Eva Bean, Bethel. The price is $12.50, plus 38 cents sales tax.

STOWELL - HEATH
An attractive wedding took place August 15 at the West Bethel Union Church, when Roberta Dorothy Heath, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Claude Heath, Bethel, became the bride of Michael Swift Stowell, son of Mr. and Mrs. George P. Stowell, Jr., West Bethel. The double ring ceremony was performed by Rev. Grant D. Kirk, Jr., with Mrs. Doris Lord presiding at the organ.

The bride, escorted to the altar by her uncle, David Lee Witter, wore a white length gown of sheer nylon over tulle with a sweetheart neckline and long, full, pointed sleeves. Her fingertip veil of silk illusion was attached to her hair of aquiline. She carried a colonial bouquet of shattered carnations and baby roses.

The maid of honor, Miss Patricia Kitteredge, wore a gown of blue chiffon and carried a colonial bouquet of shattered carnations and bachelor buttons. Walter Kitteredge was best man and Kenneth Heath and Peter Stowell acted as ushers.

A reception was held on the lawn of the West Bethel Union Church immediately following the ceremony, with the Misses Martha Brown and Sara Stowell presiding at the punch bowl and Miss Joan Heath circulating the guest book. Miss Suzanne Stowell had charge of gifts.

The couple left for several days honeymoon along the Maine coast, the bride traveling in a light blue suit with white accessories.

Both the bride and bridegroom are graduates of Gould Academy in the class of 1955. The bride attended Eastern School of Beauty Culture and the groom will enter the University of Maine this fall. They are now residing in Bangor.

COUNTRY FLAVOR

HALL CLOSETS
Psychologists, psychiatrists, ethnologists and other "ist" lads are concerned over what they call the deepening abysses that separate segments of our population.

If a recent countryman's poll has validity, there is no cause for sociological alarm. The hall closets of American homes are a homogeneous link that will offset homogeneity in other directions. Irrespective of race, creed or color, the average hall closet in all types of homes is a bond that will keep us united.

The countryman's poll, naturally, had to be conducted with finesse. But over a period of time, essential data was compiled. The typical hall closet is jam-packed with clothes and needs several more coat hangers. Coats and jackets, of course, are common items. There are roller skates, old tennis rackets, two umbrellas that work and two that do not, boxes full of stones that junior collected when he was in the fourth grade, and a pile of four-year old National Geographic.

The shelf above the clothes pole is a minotaurian jungle of empty candy boxes, several books intended for great-aunt Julia, the beret that Father bought on vacation three years ago, Sister's shoe box of pressed flowers and that dreadful vase that Aunt Lucy sent for a Christmas present several years ago and which has to be brought out each time she comes to visit.

On a rainy morning, as Father fumbles for his rubbers and umbrella he says, "Mother, I wish you'd organize this mess." And each rainy day Mother murmurs, "Yes, I must get at it." There are admittedly disturbing tangents in the national scene, but while hall closets maintain their present condition, we can relax.

MAN'S RECIPE

BLANCHE'S LEMON PIE
I am not a sociologist, just a slow-moving, middle-aged farmer on a hillside village farm, but I know that one of the major problems today is to find time to enjoy the leisure time that we are supposed to have.

Remember a few years ago when the boys with capital letters after their names were worried about us? They thought we wouldn't know what to do with all the leisure time that was coming our way. As near as I can figure from watching folks, they are busier than ever and committee meetings last longer than ever.

This is one of the popular recipes in Country Flavor Cookbook and Blanche deserves credit for it. She experimented to get just the right combination. Use one cup water, one and an eighth cups sugar, pinch of salt, two and a half tablespoons cornstarch, two egg yolks, three tablespoons lemon juice, grated rind of one lemon, one half tablespoon butter or margarine, a baked pie shell.

Bring water and sugar to boil. Moisten cornstarch with a little water, add to sugar and cook five minutes. Remove from fire.

Add the egg yolks just beaten with a fork, lemon juice, rind, salt and butter. Mix together and then cool a bit.

Pour mix into baked pie shell. Cover with meringue and bake at 325 until meringue is browned. Use two egg whites and two tablespoons sugar to make the meringue. I can eat two wedges of this any time.

On a rainy morning, as Father fumbles for his rubbers and umbrella he says, "Mother, I wish you'd organize this mess." And each rainy day Mother murmurs, "Yes, I must get at it." There are admittedly disturbing tangents in the national scene, but while hall closets maintain their present condition, we can relax.

MAINE APPLE PRODUCTION GOING UP

It looks like Maine orchardists will continue to produce more and more apples each year for at least the next 10 years. That's the word from Rudolph A. Poray, Extension Service fruit specialist, University of Maine. Unfortunately for consumers, this doesn't mean that apples will become cheaper. Actually, they may get a little more expensive. This is partly because the demand for higher quality apples outside of New England has provided an expanded outlet for apples grown under the favorable Maine climate, says Poray. About 52 percent of Maine's apple crop is shipped out of state. Another 14 percent is processed into applesauce, pies, mince, juice, cider and preserves. This leaves only 27 per cent of Maine's apple crop for our consumers. This just isn't enough fresh apples for local consumption.

When I consider Thy heavens... the moon and the stars which thou hast ordained; What is man that Thou art mindful of him?

—(Psalm 8:3-4).
How almost unbelievable—but how wonderful—it is that Almighty God, Creator of all the vast universe, should nonetheless in infinite loving kindness have heed of even the least of us mortals!

NEWSPAPERS AND TV

Last year was a very bad year in the U. S. automobile industry. Sales were far under both past and anticipated levels. There was but one exception—American Motors, with its Rambler, whose sales zoomed an astonishing 80%.

So something reported by Editor & Publisher in a late issue is of great interest.

The television people claim the world for their advertising medium. But American Motors, in setting its 1958 record, spent more than two-thirds of its $6 million advertising budget in newspapers, and absolutely nothing on TV.

The other makes all spent large parts of their ad budgets on TV.

Editor & Publisher says: "It will be argued, of course, that 1958 was an unusual year, that too many other factors enter into automobile sales, and that these figures are meaningless. We disagree."

"It seems to us that the coincidence—the manufacturer placing the largest percentage of his advertising appropriation in television and having the largest percentage drop in sales together with the fact that the only manufacturer who spent no money in TV but had the only increase in sales—is too great to ignore."

TV is a great medium but nothing can supplant the newspaper.

FARMERS' RATE REQUESTS FOR SOIL BANK DUES

Maine farmers interested in putting land in the Conservation Reserve program of the Soil Bank must file their requests for a determination of the basic rate for their land between August 24 and September 10. Farmowners may obtain at county offices of Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation. Maine's goal is 29,000 acres of cropland to be set aside under the 1960 Conservation Reserve. The basic state rate, which varies from county to county, $12 an acre. About 100,000 acres in Maine which were formerly in production are now already in the Conservation Reserve.
